

Booking Your Use Week

We cannot stress enough the need for you to reserve your use week early! PAL is located in a very desirable location, undoubtedly one of the reasons you purchased here. Our resort is small and every year the number of owners who actively utilize their week increases. Most stay right here; others exchange their time through various companies and a few others actually put their reserved units up for rent. In all cases, a written confirmation is required to assure everyone has a right to their vacation interval. There are just enough weeks to go around. If some of the weeks early in the year go wanting, that means there might not be a unit available for the folks who call when the year is half gone.

Any owner in good standing with the Association may call up to 365 days in advance to reserve their vacation time. If you should desire to reserve time beyond the 365-day limit, you may ask for a date up to 720 days in the future provided that you pay an equal amount of the current year's assessments as a deposit against the next year's billing. In making your reservation requests, please have several dates in mind and be flexible. While we will make every effort to accommodate all reservation requests, we cannot guarantee that every first choice request can be confirmed.
